Fun fundraisers

Join comedy cup finalist

A COMEDIAN who has appeared on the Jonathan Ross show and competed in comedy world cup finals will host a fundraiser for a brain tumour charity.

Aaron James will be joined by radio host Michelle Jordan to comper an auction night for the Ollie Young Foundation – set up in memory of the Woosehill youngster who died the day before his sixth birthday last year.

The evening also offers a casino, music, raffle and food and takes place at the Holiday Inn in Winnersh, on Sunday, May 5.

Mr James said: "I'm delighted to be able to help the Ollie Young Foundation, which is a very worthy charity going from strength to strength."

Tickets are on sale until Friday and cost £25, email auction@ollieyoungfoundation.org or calling 07787 981903. Full details of the event at www.ollieyoungfoundation.org/auction.html

Golden chance for funds

ORGANISERS of the Windsor Half Marathon on Sunday, September 29, have announced Scope as their first Gold Charity.

A new charity structure has been introduced allowing charities to use the race as a platform to raise awareness and funds.

Scope, which helps disabled people and their families, is the first charity to be announced on the gold level. Runners wishing to run the Windsor Half Marathon for Scope can contact the Scope Events Team directly by emailing events@scope.org.uk or calling 020 7619 7270.

Any charities wanting to get involved in the Windsor Half Marathon should go to www.runwindsor.com/charities/ for more information and contact details.
