Representatives from the Ollie Young Foundation talk to visitors at the Holme Grange food fair.

Fantastic day for foodies

FOOD lovers picked up some delicious treats at Holme Grange Craft Village's first food fair.

Visitors sampled food from around the globe including Germany, Italy and South America alongside more local delicacies during the fair in Heathlands Road last month.

The event was organised to help raise money for the Ollie Young Foundation, which supports paediatric brain tumour research.

Exhibitors and businesses based at the village donated items for a raffle which helped raise funds, while Della Duncan from the Original Unicorn Company took Lulu the pony to meet visiting children.

Stallholders included the German Bakery from Windsor; Wokingham's Angela Grows Chillis; Tutts Clump Cider; The Swedish Homemade Cake Company from Hurst; Pampered Chef representatives Lauraine Briggs and Nicky Race;

Jamtastics; The Wooden Spoon Bakery; Shemins Curry Paste from Ascot; Peruvian street food specialists Peru Sabor; Krupa Patel, who specialises in Indian-inspired chutneys and dips; and A La Karv Kitchen, creating healthy convenience foods.

Organiser Jacky Hayler, owner of Delights of Italy at the village, said that, despite the weather, she was very pleased with how the day had gone.

She said: "We nearly lost a gazebo at one point when the wind got up but otherwise it proved very successful. We received very good feedback from the visitors, who were impressed with the range of stalls and the quality of produce on offer."

"We were delighted to be able to present the Ollie Young Foundation with £160 from the day and hope the food fair can become a regular event in the Holme Grange calendar."
